

February 12, 2026: Double Jeopardy - Epstein Was an Extortionist - For This Major World Power

For the record, the gathering of materials for this post has drawn the Matrix to my front door as 'bots' and NPC's of all sorts drive past our home in an agitated frenzy.

UPSTREAM VERSUS DOWNSTREAM SUPPLIERS

If 'compromising materials' were a standard economic good, then let us evaluate the concept of upstream versus downstream business contacts.

✦ AI Overview

Upstream suppliers provide the raw materials and components necessary for production, focusing on sourcing and inbound logistics, while downstream suppliers (or partners) handle the distribution, warehousing, and delivery of finished goods to the final customer. Upstream manages supply stability, whereas downstream manages market demand and customer satisfaction. 🔗

Key Differences Between Upstream and Downstream

- Definition & Focus: Upstream is the "supply" side (pre-production), dealing with suppliers, procurement, and raw materials. Downstream is the "demand" side (post-production), focusing on marketing, sales, and distribution to customers.
- Key Activities:
 - Upstream: Supplier management, raw material sourcing, procurement, inbound transportation.
 - Downstream: Order management, warehousing, distribution, customer service, sales.

TAKE FOR EXAMPLE, THE VERIFIABLE EXAMPLE OF MUSK BROTHER (Combining Elon, Errol, and Kimbal - we get an interesting picture of the family controlling our national 'security' technologies)

Epstein engineered intimate relationship for Tesla's Kimbal Musk, emails show

Elon Musk's younger brother and the woman were involved for about six months between 2012 and 2013

If 'a woman' is the contact point, then Epstein is the supplier of the woman to Musk.

Jeffrey Epstein engineered an intimate relationship between a woman in his network and Kimbal Musk, who is the brother of Elon Musk and on the board of directors at Tesla, according to emails from the Department of Justice's recent release of documents involving the convicted sex offender. The younger Musk and the woman were involved for around six months between 2012 and 2013, with Kimbal Musk describing them as "dating".

If the contact point is communicating with Epstein (from which she was supplied to Musk), then Epstein is the upstream supplier contact.

Throughout Musk and the woman's time together, she forwarded Epstein several of the personal messages Musk sent to her and asked Epstein for guidance on the relationship. There is nothing in the emails to suggest that Musk was aware of her backchannel correspondence with Epstein.

Musk is the downstream demand contact. Whether as the 'target' of an extortion attempt, or a paying customer, or simply as a beneficiary of a 'fortuitous meeting', Musk is downstream.

NOW, ON THE MACRO SCALE, IF WE EXTRAPOLATE THE SAME LOGIC . . .

Honey traps and hidden cameras: all of Epstein's suspicious ties to Moscow

From Moscow flights to friendships with Kremlin officials, the late paedophile's emails raise alarming questions over his ties to Putin

It appears he may have achieved his goal once, in September 2011, when the financier received an email from an unidentified associate referring to an “appointment with Putin” during a forthcoming trip to Russia.

The nearest Epstein seems to have come to any other meeting was in May 2013. That month, Epstein sent himself a reminder to “prepare putin paper”.

At around the same time, he wrote to Ehud Barak, the former Israeli prime minister, claiming that the Norwegian politician, Thorbjørn Jagland, “is going to see putin in sochi”, and “asked that I make myself available [sic] to meet with him sometime in june”.

Here, we can see that Epstein is contacting the (former) Israeli Prime Minister as a ‘backchannel’ communication point while attempting to make a contact with Russian leader, Vladimir Putin. In this particular instance of the macro scale transaction, we see that Israel is upstream of Epstein’s contacts with Russia which are downstream and prospective.

on may 20 thorhbjom jagland is going to see putin in sochi, jagland asked that I make myself available to meet with him somctine in june, to explain how russia can structure deals in order to encourage western investment, I never met him, wanted you to know.

Jagland wrote to Epstein a few days later, saying he planned to pass a message to Putin on the financier’s behalf. “I have a friend that can help you to take the necessary measures (and then present you) and ask [whether] it is interesting for him to meet with you,” he says.

Here, we see that the ‘Norwegian politician’ (JAGLAND) is contacting Epstein stating that he (JAGLAND) will see if Putin is interested in a meeting with (Epstein).

Epstein's reply is astounding. "I would be happy to meet him," the financier writes, "but for a minimum of two to three hours, not shorter." Later, he writes again to Barak, claiming to have turned down a request from Putin to meet at an economic conference in St Petersburg, saying the Russian president would "need to set aside real time and privacy" for Epstein to bother.

Putin asked that i meet him in st petersburg the same time as his economic conference I told him no, .

If he wants to meet he will need to set aside real time and privacy, lets see what happens

Epstein seems to inflate his position the next time he contacts the (former) Israeli prime minister (humble-bragging) that "Putin asked that (Epstein) meet him . . . If (Putin) wants to meet (Putin) will need to set aside real time and privacy."

In this encounter, Epstein (like 'a woman') is the contact point; Russian Putin (like Musk) is the 'fortuitous meeting'; and Israel (former) Prime Minister Barak (like Epstein in the Musk transaction) is the upstream communication that is preceding the meeting in a backchannel unknown to the Russian Putin. Jagland and Putin are downstream contacts for the meeting.

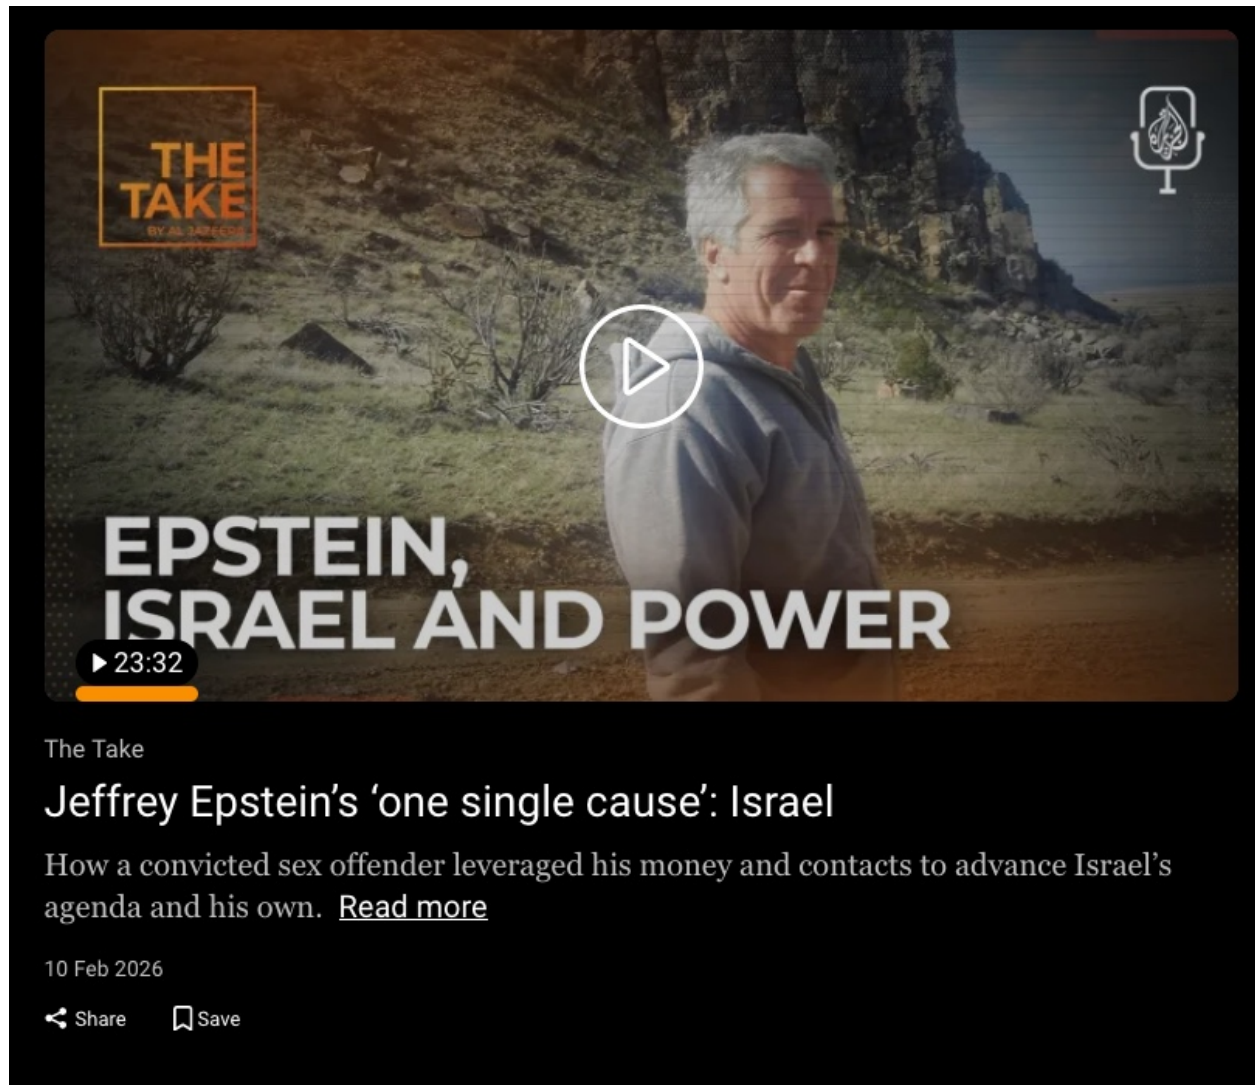

Combining these facts with the seemingly 'inflated' manner in which Epstein describes the opportunity that is developing, I begin to suspect that Israel is the interested, upstream (supply-sided) contact of Epstein - rather than Epstein being a Russian spy seeking kompromat on behalf of Russia. Does it not seem as though Epstein might be seeking extortion materials from (or selling extortion materials to) Russia?

I am not the only person that thinks this may be true, listen to this (far-more-respectable) International Lawyer discuss the matter in greater detail:

Israel is using thermal weapons supplied by the USA!

Israel used weapons in Gaza that made thousands of Palestinians evaporate

Al Jazeera investigation reveals how US-supplied thermal and thermobaric munitions burning at 3,500C have left no trace of nearly 3,000 Palestinians.

And . . here we find the HAMMER again. (For those following along, this is another ‘bad sign’)(Maccabees)

Anatomy of the bombs

The investigation identified specific US-manufactured munitions used in Gaza that are linked to these disappearances:

- MK-84 ‘Hammer’: This 900kg [2,000lb] unguided bomb packed with tritonal generates heat up to 3,500C [6,332F].
- BLU-109 bunker buster: Used in an attack on al-Mawasi, an area Israel had declared a “safe zone” for forcibly displaced Palestinians in September 2024, this bomb evaporated 22 people. It has a steel casing and a delayed fuse, burying itself before detonating a PBXN-109 explosive mix. This creates a large fireball inside enclosed spaces, incinerating everything within reach.
- GBU-39: This precision glide bomb was used in the al-Tabin school attack. It uses the AFX-757 explosive. “The GBU-39 is designed to keep the building structure relatively intact while destroying everything inside,” Fatigarov noted. “It kills via a pressure wave that ruptures lungs and a thermal wave that incinerates soft tissue.”

Have no concerns though, because all of this advanced weaponry and ‘intelligence’ is all rooted in a very firm understanding of the Bible, because Israel is a word/location that’s in the Bible.

(Logical? No. It’s not.)

Truly, this is not the ‘sling’ that David used to defeat Goliath.

In service since 2017, David's Sling serves as the middle tier of Israel's missile defense system, sitting between the long-range Arrow system and the short-range Iron Dome.

The Israeli military's inventory also includes US-made THAAD ballistic missile defense systems.

All supplied by their great ally the United States of America - led by none other than the convicted prostitute-abusing, Donald ‘the John’ Trump.

What exactly is going on here? Personally, I believe I have enough of an understanding now to figure it all out.

(As I end this post, some ‘power’ drives an angry sounding vehicle past our home - as if I am to blame for their sins. Get fucked, losers. Get out of my life already! YOU DID THIS NOT ME!)
